Abstract

This collection consist of letters, diaries, scrapbooks, hand-drawn maps, clippings, photographs, transcripts, war communications and books relating to three generations of the Reynolds family of Lancaster, PA. The collection consists mostly of the papers of William Reynolds (1815 - 1879) and John Fulton Reynolds (1820-1863). Scrapbooks were compiled by Eleanor Reynolds and mostly chronicle the military career of brother John. Books (monographs) that were included in the Reynolds Family Papers are probably from the personal library of James Lefevre Reynolds. The journals which William Reynolds wrote during the U.S. Exploring Expedition are available on microfilm. In 2003, portions of the Reynolds Family Papers were digitized with the support of a 2002 NETShare grant award.

Scope and Content Note

The collection consist of letters, diaries, scrapbooks, hand-drawn maps, clippings, photographs, transcripts, war communications and books. Some of the items were first assembled by members of the Reynolds family in the mid-1860s, with family ownership of the material being continuous up until the transfer of the collection to Franklin and Marshall College. It is the understanding of the department that items relating to the daughters of John and Lydia Moore Reynolds have been retained by the family.

The earliest item in the collection dates from 1756 with the bulk of the material covering the period from 1830 - 1880 and consisting of mostly William Reynolds (1815 - 1879) and John Fulton Reynolds (1820-1863) items.

Scrapbooks were compiled by Eleanor Reynolds. Books (monographs) that were included in the Reynolds Family Papers are probably from the personal library of James Lefevre Reynolds. These books are listed at the end of the manuscript collection inventory. The journals which William Reynolds wrote during the U.S. Exploring Expedition 1838-1842 are available on microfilm. William's unofficial journals are also available in published format (abridged) as The Private Journal of William Reynolds edited by Nathaniel and Thomas Philbrick, New York: Penguin Books, 2004. An unabridged transcription of these journals is also available in electronic format. Letters written by William Reynolds to his family during the expedition and numbered 1-21 are available transcribed and published as Voyage to the Southern Ocean: the Letters of Lieutenant William Reynolds from the U.S. Exploring Expedition, 1838-1842 edited by Anne Hoffmann Cleaver and E. Jeffrey Stann, Annapolis: Naval Institute Press, 1988.

In 2003, portions of the Reynolds Family Papers were digitized with the support of a 2002 NETShare grant award. The award program is an extension of the federal Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA), and is administered in Pennsylvania through the Department of Education, Office of Commonwealth Libraries.
